Insurance Confirmation

Hahn Air Lines GmbH hereby confirms that all HR-169 tickets issued via a GDS are insured against the consequences of an airline's insolvency as follows:

In the event a flight on an HR-169 ticket is cancelled due to the insolvency of the operating carrier, Hahn Air Lines GmbH (An der Trift 65, 63303 Dreieich, Germany) and The Generali Insurances AG, (Adenauerring 7, 81737 Munich, Germany) represented by REISEGARANT „Gesellschaft für die Vermittlung von Insolvenzversicherungen mit beschränkter Haftung“ will vouch for a full refund of the unused part of the ticket including taxes.

Additionally, Hahn Air Lines GmbH (An der Trift 65, 63303 Dreieich, Germany) and Allianz Global Assistance International S.A. (Bahnhofstr. 16, 85609 Aschheim/ Munich, Germany) offer protection for stranded passengers and reimburse costs that might arise in such an event. This implies costs for a new ticket (the difference between the original ticket total and the new ticket total) in the amount of up to €125,00, for meals and hotel accommodation in the amount of up to €75,00 as well as extras like transfers and phone calls in the amount of up to €50,00. The insolvency must have occurred within 24 hours before departure or during a round-trip where the customer has already used at least one coupon.
